

Herald Survey Lets Readers Rate Community

How would you rate your community -- excellent, good, average, below average or poor? The Herald is publishing a Community Attitude Survey, on Page 2, which gives readers the opportunity to rate their community.

Questions cover city and other service recreational opportunities, schools, and job opportunities.

There is also an open-end question, "In your opinion what are the five most important things which need to be done to make this a better community?"

The 60 questions cover all aspects of the community.

The Herald invites all readers to fill out the survey and mail it to The Cameron Herald, 108 East First Street, Cameron.

Results of the survey will be tabulated and released at a later date.

HERE, NOW! The U. S. Air Force is making rain by seeding clouds in the Austin-Georgetown area.

Everybody knows that men weren't supposed to fly because they weren't born with wings. How could the Air Force defy nature and tradition and cause two to five inches of rain in that area?

Man wasn't born with wheels on his feet either, but man, can he roll those unattached wheels on the ground. No one a few thousand years ago foresaw combustion engines or jet engines or rockets and there we are, man walking around on earth's moon.

And the Air Force is firing silver iodide flares into clouds. American Indians all over the Southwest have been donning bonnets and dancing shoes to bring on the rain in one of the Southwest's most serious droughts (drouths, choose your spelling!)

It proves everybody laughs at the innovator, Indian or iodide user, whose audacity defies the limited knowledge of a field at a point in time or who traditionalists rail at for the spectre of one infinitesimal mind and ego testy enough to add a modicum to the mass of knowledge among us.

Maybe the Indians know more about rain making than anybody until the Air Force. Chemists somewhere are improving on the idea of seeding clouds with dry ice, elements of which may include iodide.

Iodide, according to one reference book, is "a salt or compound in which iodine is the acid radical" suggesting that some compound of silver and iodide somehow stirs moisture-bearing clouds to a point where the moisture condenses into rain.

Wonder what Leonardo da Vinci got when he showed drawings to engineers of his day of a flying machine not unlike a modern helicopter, of a submarine and numerous other impossibilities which it has been modern man's lot to create.

Hey, Leonardo, what's a matta you? (Free, very bad translation) You know man notta born with propeller on top of his head. You know he can't breathe under water. You fool around too much. Why don't you get married and raise lot of bambinos? Why don't you do something useful, like invent a spaghetti tree? What's a matta you?

112-112-112

Indians probably don't laugh at the Air Force success. They probably figure it's another good reason why Custer (Ol' Yellow Hair) got that wild welcoming committee at Little Big Horn.

"White man always fooling around. Put rain dancer out of work."

Things are changing so fast that tradition today is gone tomorrow. It took thousands of years to create most of them, tens of millions of years to reach modern mentality and only a few modern years to shatter most everything going before.

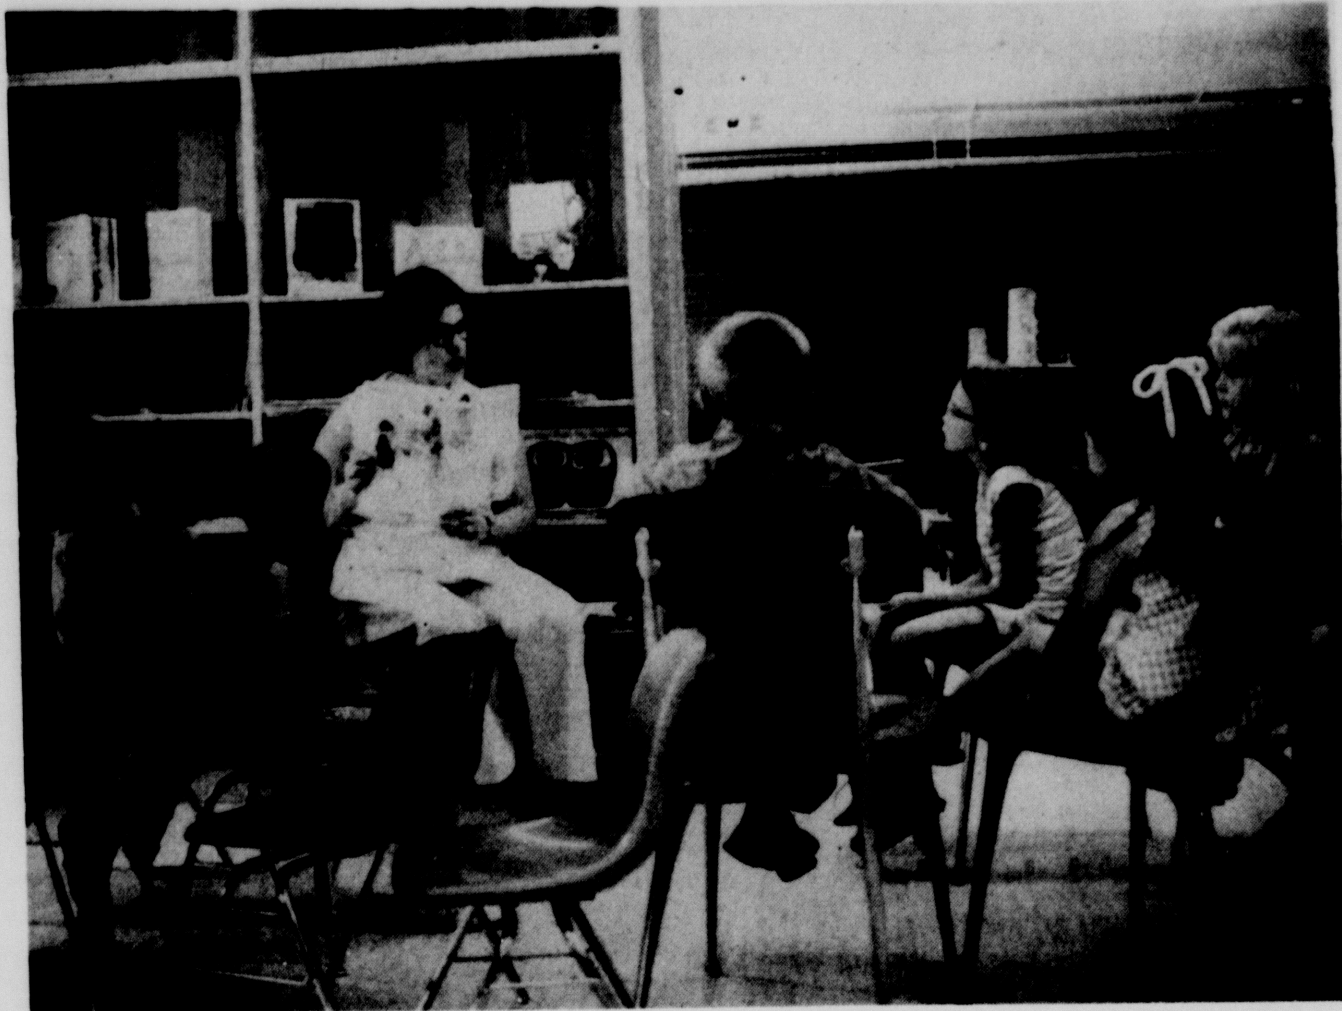

What next, like?

That rain cloud may not be a rain cloud at all. It may be an Air Force WC130.

Stores To Close Monday, July 5

Many stores in downtown Cameron will be closed Monday, July 5 along with both banks, all federal offices including the Post Office, and offices at the Milam County Courthouse.

No special civic celebration of the 4th is planned for Cameron this year.

STORYTIME at the Cameron Public Library has these youngsters enthralled as assistant librarian Mrs. Ed Magre presents a tale for the children. Sessions are held for 4 - 6 year olds on Tuesdays from 10:30 until 11 a.m., and on Thursdays, same time, for 7 and 8 year olds.

Cloud Seeders Claim Credit For Showers

Air Force cloud seeders claim at least part credit for central Texas rains of the past two weeks that have measured from five inches in parts of Williamson County to .73 inches around Cameron.

John Carr, assistant to the director of Texas Water Development Board, said in a Herald interview Tuesday that Air Force WC130 planes have fired silver iodide flares into clouds in the central Texas area over the past few weeks. Clouds were seeded east of Taylor Monday afternoon, probably triggering the showers in Cameron.

The cloud seeding is a joint project of the Texas Water Development Board, the Air Force and Bureau of Reclamation. Carr said it was the result of a request by Gov. Preston Smith for emergency drought relief.

Carr explained that not every cloud can be seeded with the silver iodide flares. "The cloud must be about 2 miles across at the bottom, about 2 miles thick and at least 12,000 feet above ground," Carr said. He explained that the silver iodide caused moisture in the cloud to freeze. "The resulting snow flakes are melted by surrounding small rain drops, expanding these to a size heavy enough to fall to the earth," Carr said.

The cloud seeding operation started June 5 in South Texas when a specially trained crew and specially equipped planes were transferred to Kelley Air Force Base.

Radar equipment pin points prospective cloud cover and the planes' flight pattern is determined by this. "We have seeded clouds all along the Gulf Coast and from the Austin area to Bryan," Carr said.

The planes are 4 engine turbo prop planes modified for weather work. They have previously been used for cloud seeding in Florida.

Carr said the program was funded through June 30. "We have a meeting scheduled Thursday (July 1) to determine if we will continue the program for another two weeks," Carr reported. He said after mid-July Texas normally would not have sufficient clouds to be worth the program's expense.

Carr said a similar program was underway in San Angelo, however where the central and south Texas cloud seeding was an emergency operation, the San Angelo program is a scientific project with both commercial and Air Force equipment.

"The San Angelo project is funded for a three year experiment," Carr said. "There we are doing two types of seeding - the proven silver iodide flares and a method where smaller, lower clouds are treated with water sprays to trigger rainfall." He said the latter method had not been as effective to date.

Smitherman To Head Noon Lions

Gene Smitherman will head the Noon Lions Club for the 1971-72 year after being installed during a meeting Monday. Installing new officers and directors was Charles Briggs, past district governor.

First year directors are Rod Holcombe and Ed Laywell. Second year directors are Ed Magre and George Jones.

Other officers are vice presidents, Delbert Burleson, John Martin, and Bill Watkins; Jim Lafferty, treasurer and secretary; Crippled Children's Camp chairman, Albert McCullen Jr.

Jim Camp was named tail twister and Paul Olbrich, Lion tamer.

Agent Reports On Crop Conditions

One to two inches of rain helped all crops in the south part of Milam County this past week. Near normal crops of maize, cotton, forage and other crops are currently expected in the Rockdale, Thorndale, San Gabriel, Buckholts, Sharp and Yarrellton communities.

Since maize is the number one cash crop, probably added weight to this crop was most critical so far as moisture needs were concerned. Then too the need for increased forage for cattle received a boost from the added moisture.

Maize harvest will start by mid-July in the Thorndale area with some fields expected to be ready by July 10. Prospects for good prices for grain sorghum are encouraging at this time.

Cotton is fruiting very well. Since cotton is a "dry weather" plant, moisture is not so critical until boll development occurs in July and August. Insect infestations are "spotted".

The north and east parts of the county are quite different in that moisture has been critical all year.

Much of the crops had to be replanted in a deficient moisture condition. Hardly enough moisture was received this past week to help this situation.

Late planted crops never do very well under the 100 degree temperatures sure to come in July.

Watermelon prices are reported to start in the neighborhood of 5¢ per pound which is a very good price. It is reported that the Bakers, who farm in the Hoyt Community began harvesting some "yellow meated" watermelons this past week.

Graham McLerran reports that the recent rains were "just right" for his watermelon crop. McLerran thinks his melons should be ready to market in about another week.

Tax Burden Increases Today

Texans will be paying more Thursday (today) for items ranging from cars to cigarettes because of new state taxes passed by the 1971 legislature.

The new taxes which take effect today:

*General sales tax increase, from 3 1/4 to 4 percent. City sales tax, in effect in most Texas towns, remains at 1 percent. This means a total of 5 percent in sales tax in those towns, including Cameron.

*Motor vehicle sales tax increase, from 3 to 4 percent.

*Cigarette tax hike, from 15 1/2 to 18 1/2 cents per pack.

*New 4 percent tax on motor vehicle rentals.

*Beer tax increase, from $4.30 to $5 per barrel.

*Liquor tax rises, from $1.68 to $2 per gallon, or about 6 cents a fifth.

Dancers To Gerburstag

Cameron's German Folk Dancers will be one of the featured attractions at Giddings' "Geburstag" to be held July 1-5. The group will perform at 7 p.m. Saturday on the courthouse square. The occasion is Giddings' 100th birthday.

DPS Predicts 48 Fatalities

AUSTIN

Colonel Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, has estimated that traffic accidents over the long July 4th holiday weekend will claim 48 lives in Texas.

In addition, Speir said it appears that between 6 p.m. Friday, July 2 and midnight Monday, July 5 -- the official holiday weekend -- these same collisions could result in hundreds, perhaps a thousand or more injuries, and a monetary loss running into the millions of dollars.

The DPS director, in a special appeal, said, "We urge Texans to reduce the toll by obeying the laws of safety, driving defensively, avoiding fatigue while driving, and, above all, by not driving while drinking. The ultimate solution to lessening the toll obviously lies in the hands of each driver."

Speir said as many DPS patrolmen would be on duty as possible, including some from uniformed services other than the Highway Patrol. He noted that many local law enforcement agencies will place similar special emphasis during the holiday period.

The Department of Public Safety will also conduct its "Operation Motorcade" program during the holiday which, in cooperation with local police agencies and the news media of Texas, attempts to focus public attention on accident hazards through the rapid compilation and release of information on fatal traffic mishaps during the period.

"We are hopeful," Speir said, "that all street and highway users will make the slogan 'Drive Friendly' a reality during the July 4th weekend."

Boy Scouts To Man Holiday Rest Stop

Boy Scout Troop 752 is planning to open its now-annual July 4th rest stop in City Park, to give holiday motorists a break from the crowded highways.

The rest stop will open Friday afternoon and remain open night and day through Sunday.

The stop is becoming a tradition for both the troop and some motorists, who stop each year and renew acquaintance with the boys.

Last year 843 people registered at the stop, many of them repeaters from other years. Families on vacation, young people on the way to the Coast or on their way back home, all welcomed the cold drinks, coffee and cookies served in the shady comfort of City Park.

The register read like a map to the United States, with home addresses of many states. One family said it was their third year to enjoy the Boy Scouts hospitality, and another traveler said he'd traveled for years and "this is the first time I've seen anything like this."

The rest stop is made possible by individuals, business firms and the Chamber of Commerce.

Felix Matula Jr., Troop 752 Scoutmaster, said the Coca-Cola Bottling Co. will provide cold drinks and the Citizens National Bank has provided for cold cups.

The Cameron Volunteer Firemen Ladies Auxiliary has promised to supply home-baked cookies and Marek-Burns-Laywell will provide a canopy for the refreshments.

Matual said donations of coffee, cookies, sugar, ice, and hot cups will be welcomed by the troop. Cash donations will be used to purchase supplies, he said. The donations may be left at Matula's home, or brought by the park after the rest stop opens.

The rest stop was started several years ago to help motorists observe pleas from law enforcement officials to take a break during long holiday weekend trips. The Scouts feel this is one way to promote traffic safety and the gratitude of travelers makes the effort worthwhile.

Liberty Community Observes 4th

The community of Liberty in Milam County will observe the Fourth of July in much the spirit of early American history with old friends gathering on the grounds behind the Liberty Community Church, a picnic, spread on permanent cement tables, a few speeches and probably some singing.

The Fourth of July picnic started in 1914 as a cemetery association meeting and "working". Originally it was held on the first Friday in July, but after a caretaker was hired for the cemetery the meeting became strictly a homecoming social and the annual gathering was changed to Sunday.

This year between 150 and 200 former residents and their descendants are expected.

The cemetery that adjoins the community church has an early and interesting beginning. Old timers say a man was found dead on the road between Liberty and Milano. Some of the neighbors were taking the body to Pin Oak by ox wagon for burial but were stopped by a winter storm. They asked T. B. Fischers' permission to bury him on the edge of his pasture. This was the first interment at Liberty Cemetery.

Robert Pembroke of Cameron has a deed showing that Mr. Tom Kirk and Mr. W. D. Hill gave the remainder of the land for the cemetery. Pembroke is not sure of the date, but the earliest legible tombstone bears the date 1863.

The community church once shared quarters with the Liberty school. It started as a log cabin probably built by Rev. William Jordan, a Methodist minister at Liberty from about 1860 until his death.

The building was enlarged and improved through the years and at one time was shared by Methodists and Baptists on alternate Sundays and by area students on weekdays.

Mrs. Charles Robinson, a teacher at Liberty before the school closed, recalls that there were 75 to 100 students enrolled in the two teacher school. "Usually instruction stopped at the 7th grade level," Mrs. Robinson said, "but some years we would have a teacher that could take children into high school level."

Jordan was from Alabama and was a man of determination. His family recalls the story of a drought period. Jordan was said to have left his home with instructions that his family was not to bring him food or clothing, that he was going to the church and pray without interruption until rain came. He returned home the fifth day, his suit soaked by a drought-ending shower.

Liberty has always been a farm community with no business houses. In the early days Hanover was the only contact with the world around them. Mail was delivered by mule from that community twice a week.

Some of the early settlers were the Lantrips, Millers, Jordans, Fischers, Longs, and Mills. Their descendants are present day association officers: Mrs. Zita Gandy, president; Mrs. Wesley Malone, secretary and Mrs. Vera Shaffer, treasurer.

LIBERTY HOMECOMING - Mrs. Charles Robinson, former teacher in the Liberty school, looks over cemetery grounds in preparation for the weekend homecoming. Tombstones in this area of the cemetery date to 1868.

Marvels Of Air Travel...

Recent staff experience on several American air lines attests to the efficiency the air industry employs even in times of declining air travel. Air terminals in major air centers are enormous and getting "enormouser."

Concourses and hallways between sub-terminals of a major air center can be half a mile or more long. Overall length of terminal walkways to and from planes runs into miles.

Planes taxi miles getting to a take-off position or to the deplaning ramps from the point of landing.

Cities and regions are building them even bigger. And it is easy to understand: the massive 747 carries 300 or more passengers and crew of almost 20 people. It takes miles to land and take off. It has four sets of four wheels each under the main part of the fuselage. It would take a lot of blowouts to be noticeable.

The technology of air transportation is, then, an amazing development in size and complexity. Computers now link all reservations of most all scheduled airlines across the country. TV monitors in the concourses, well away from central information desks and ticket counters, tell what flight goes where at what gate at what time, without anyone with a ticket having to go to a central check-in point.

Terminals themselves are now separate cities built around the landing fields and runways. Massive are these webs of concrete, black with the screeching tires of jets landing and scorched with the jet blasts of jets ramming skyward.

It is an experience, and hardly an uncommon one these days, to spend more time getting to and from an airport than in the air.

It is a marvel how the whole thing works so well.

What Do You Think?

Response to your Herald's "Community Attitude Survey" is developing, but upon advice from several who first saw the form in the Herald of June 24, this page, they wanted time to mull its 60 points.

So the mulling time is past and a reprint of the survey is adjacent to this column for your further perusal and completion.

All you need to do is fold it into an envelope and mail to The Cameron Herald, 108 East First Street, Cameron 76520.

Your comments are particularly sought in the open-ended question area where you note specific needs in the area, be it Cameron, Milam County or some other community.

Gov. Smith Takes Axe To 'Unwarranted Spending'

By Vern Sanford

Gov. Preston Smith, in an unprecedented veto action, turned the job of rewriting the entire 1973 state budget to a special legislative session next year.

Smith took the axe to $3.1 billion in state spending which he found "unnecessary and unwarranted" for the second half of the biennium. He announced his decision on a statewide television program, and said that he will submit to the lawmakers, before September 1972, a new 1973 budget proposal which will require no new taxes.

Smith made it clear that a 1972 special session is inevitable, anyway, because the Legislature did not appropriate welfare funds for the second year.

Governor's action may accomplish the following regardless of whether a new tax bill can be avoided next year (Texas Research League estimates a $474 million biennial tax bill will be required in the 1972 special session):

- Legislators will have to take a sober second look at spending items in an election year when many are faced with general election contests.
- Fact that little additional federal aid is available for welfare spending, in spite of predictions by Smith, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes and others, will be partially obscured, since the special session will not be confined to welfare alone but opened to the entire area of government spending for 1973.
- Smith declined to reveal his future political plans but left dangling the prospect of a third term race.
- Governor claims the public response has been almost 100 per cent favorable to his historic veto. Lieutenant Governor and House Speaker Gus Mutscher pledged cooperation.

COURTS SPEAK

State Supreme Court, in a five-four decision, held that an insurance company can't fight its policyholders in suits against uninsured motorists except in unusual situation.

A man fired by an oil company for not getting enough new business in the Beaumont-Houston area was granted a new trial through a Supreme Court order.

High Court upheld the county court at law finding that a San Antonio woman could collect damages from the City of San Antonio for condemnation of her land and for damage to property due to erosion.

Supreme Court heard arguments in the Braniff and Texas International Airways effort to ground the new Southwest Airlines (Dallas, Houston, San Antonio routes).

Court of Criminal Appeals reversed the death penalty of a man convicted of a 1967 knife murder of a Baylor University coed and ordered a new trial.

Trial of former San Marcos Police Chief Waymon Dial, for burglary, has been transferred to Harris County.

AG OPINIONS

Texas Water Quality Board may contract for the state with the federal government for federal grants or loans under the federal water pollution control act -- subject to a 60-day limitation and the governor's approval -- Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin has held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

- * El Paso can contract with the Council of Governments for a recreation area partly within the city limits, partly in the county and partly in Dona Ana county, New Mexico.
- * National Guard Army Board has authority to determine the lowest and best bid and best interest of the state on armory construction which involved unknown factors on a fixed bid, price and congressional factors.
- * Concentrated Employment Project federal funds are not subject to auditing procedures applicable to county funds.
- * A city fireman, on returning from military leave, is entitled to credit for the time spent in service, in figuring city payroll longevity.
- * Where the legislature has made specific lump sum appropriations, for hourly wages, the head of a state agency to whom an appropriation is made has the discretion to fix the hourly rate of pay.

CITIES COLLECT

Texas cities which levy a one per cent local option sales tax received nearly $35.5 million from January-March collections on sales within their boundaries.

Collection for the first quarter of 1971 compared with $39.6 million for the final quarter of 1970 and $36.5 million for the third quarter of 1970.

More than 400 cities levy local option sales tax.

Money goes to the state comptroller and is handed back to cities of origin. During the quarter ending March 31, the state retained $719,756 as its service fee.

INSURANCE RATE HIKE

Auto insurance companies were expected to request rate increases of more than 25 per cent at a hearing before the State Insurance Board June 30.

Companies six months ago were granted a 14 per cent increase, but were far from happy and insisted on more. They wanted a 27 per cent boost.

A new law permits motorists to purchase deductible liability insurance if they are willing to assume the risk of the first $250 damage their car may do to property. Another new act gives the State Insurance Board direction to promulgate rules for cancellation and non-renewal of policies.

SIX CITIES WIN CITATION

Six Texas cities received plaques as winners of governor's community achievement award. Cities were Victoria, Trinity, Mansfield, Lamesa, and Grand Prairie. Awards went for efforts to improve the quality of living.

Farming Assets Show Increase

Farm and ranch assets in Texas totaled $29.2 billion on January 1, 1971 -- showing an increase of four percent or $1.1 billion from a year earlier.

Advances in real estate values made up 73 percent of 1970's gain in value of net assets, Charles K. Baker, Extension marketing economist explains. He adds that increases in value of real estate have been accounting for most of the gains in recent years.

Most of the remaining gain for 1970 was accounted for by higher values for livestock and poultry inventories and machinery and motor vehicles.

Farm prices, which advanced 10.3 percent between 1965 and 1970, were dampened by a rise in farm productivity. Improved technology and generally favorable weather resulted in a 22.5 percent increase in farm output per man hour. Baker says that in the 1965 - 1970 period net income gains were held to 11.8 percent by production costs that rose 26 percent.

Changes in the financial conditions of farmers are closely related to trends in the United States economy since non-farmers make up over 95 percent of the population and are the primary consumers of farm products. Changes in the financial well being of the non-farmer segment of the population affect the economic situation of farmers and ranchers through changes in demand for farm products.

Personal income in the United States increased at an annual rate of 8.3 percent in current dollars or 4.8 percent in constant dollars during the last half of the 1960s.

Baker pointed out that in 1965-1970 the annual increase in consumer prices averaged 3.5 percent while personal taxes rose an average of about nine percent. Annual gains in real disposable income averaged four percent for the same period.

USE THAT HAY CONDITIONER

Use your hay conditioner on large stemmed hay plants at the time of cutting or as soon afterwards as possible, advise Extension specialists. This will insure that the walls of the stem will be cracked open for better drying that will contribute to harvesting high quality hay.

FARM and CITY

WHOSE FARM IS THIS? The Herald still has a few aerial photos of Milam County farms that have not been identified. If you recognize this farm, come in and claim the photo -- it is free. The photos were taken in 1958, so some changes may have occurred on the farms.

Accent on Health

The Texas meat inspection program, operated by the Texas State Department of Health, is less than two years old, but has been appraised as equal to federal inspection procedures and given full endorsement by the United States Department of Agriculture.

The State Health Department in 1969 opened a school at Yoakum to train meat inspectors, a move required by a new Texas Meat and Poultry Act. Faced with the choice of letting the federal government take over all inspection or providing adequate state inspection, the Texas Legislature decided in favor of state controls. The federal government still inspects all red meat and poultry processed for interstate (across state lines) shipments.

The amount of red meat and poultry inspected is staggering. In 1970, more than 306 million pounds of red meat -- beef and pork -- came under the critical eyes of State Health Department inspectors. In addition, 63 1/2 million pounds of poultry was inspected.

State meat inspectors are now keeping close tabs on all meat processed at the 646 slaughterhouse and processing plants now under state inspection. Meat animals are carefully checked before slaughter, after slaughter, and through every stage of the packing process.

The objective of the Texas meat inspection program is to insure better meat products for all Texans. Inspection is essential to make certain that only wholesome meat and meat products reach the tables of consumers. The program will also upgrade the meat industry and encourage it to provide better products.

Texas meat inspectors have been placed throughout the state, from Amarillo to Brownsville and from El Paso to Texarkana. Every packing plant in the state has a carefully trained inspector on duty at all times.

The symbol of the Texas meat inspection program is a purple Texas-shaped stamp. If you begin to notice the Texas stamp on the beef or poultry you buy at the supermarket, you know that meat is safe and wholesome. It has been inspected and certified by inspectors trained by the Texas State Department of Health.

"Accent on Health" is a weekly service of the Public Health Education Division of the Texas State Department of Health.

AGRICULTURE IS BIG

The assets of American agriculture equal about half the market value of all U.S. corporations listed in the New York Stock Exchange.

Marketing System Changes Maysfield News

Today's modern livestock marketing system demands increased attention and some changes on the part of producers--if they want higher incomes, reports Dr. Ed Uvacek, Extension livestock marketing specialist at Texas A&M.

Despite the reluctance of some livestock producers to modify their production and marketing practices, the industry is itself undergoing some dramatic and influential changes, he adds. These, in turn, will force the producer to adjust, he says.

For example, since 1955 beef production has increased 55 percent even though total cow numbers rose only four percent. The U.S. beef herd is up 46 percent, but dairy cow numbers showed a decline of 41 percent.

During the same period cattle slaughter increased 34 percent, but calf slaughter dropped 61 percent. Hog slaughter showed an increase of five percent and lamb slaughter fell 34 percent during the same period.

Per capita consumption of beef rose 39 percent, while veal consumption fell 69 percent and lamb consumption dropped 28 percent. Per capita consumption of pork fell off only one percent.

The development of retail chain stores, expansion of cattle feedlot operations, and specialization of packers are some of the changes credited with causing these results.

The retail chains' use of specification buying and mass merchandising of finished beef has itself fostered many changes, Uvacek notes. Feedlots have created a year round demand for feeder calves and large order buying firms have developed to supply them.

Many modern packers have specialized their plants into single species operations, and some have gone even further into just one class of a species.

More animals are moving direct, with livestock auction markets and terminals receiving a smaller share of the total, he says. The local markets may not always yield the highest price for the producer, but they are convenient and offer an extremely easy place to convert livestock into cash.

Even though greater returns may be obtained by routing animals through a different marketing channel, it may take a substantially greater effort by the producers. The producer must decide for himself what he is willing to put into the marketing phase of his business and what changes he is willing to make, the marketing specialist says.

Turkey Tops July Foods

Shades of red, white, and blue! July is almost here and what better way to greet Independence Day than with a sampling of America's plentiful foods.

Turkeys top the U.S. Department of Agriculture's July plentiful foods list, so why not try some outdoor barbecuing ideas with this all-American bird, says the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The monthly plentiful foods list, compiled by USDA commodity specialists from fact finding sources in government and food industries, also includes eggs, fresh plums, watermelons, fresh vegetables (tomatoes, cabbage, cucumbers, sweet corn, celery and carrots in particular), rice,

The Last Royal Wedding?

By Betty Ratzin
Reuter Correspondent

BIKANER, India

The last royal wedding in India may have been that of Maharaj Kumar Singh, 25-year-old son of the Maharajah Bikaner, famous as a politician and marksman.

Prime Minister Indira Gandhi's government is expected to abolish the privy purses, titles and other privileges of India's 300 princes within the next few months.

The traditional rulers were given a reprieve in December when they won their case in the supreme court against a presidential decree reducing them to ordinary citizens.

Their power to rule over their states went in 1947 when India became independent, but some princes still maintain their old standards as shown by the wedding ritual for the Maharaj and his 18-year-old bride, the daughter of the Maharajah of Chamba in Northwest India.

Bikaner, a 500-year-old desert kingdom in the state of Rajasthan, is about 250 miles west of

New Delhi.

The present Maharajah, a large affable man who was re-elected to the Indian parliament for the fifth time in March, postponed his son's wedding until April because of the demands of campaigning in the hastily called election.

Bikaner's 16th century fort was the scene of the Hindu marriage rites held while the bride was still in Delhi preparing for another ceremony the following day.

Central figure in the rituals was the young Maharaj, who assumed the traditional countenance of Indian bridegrooms, a blend of boredom and modesty.

At five o'clock on a hot dusty afternoon, he arrived at the fort in his father's white 1955 Cadillac convertible, festooned with marigold garlands and bearing the red Bikaner license plate, which will become obsolete if his father loses his privileges.

His mother, sister, and a bevy of aunts attended him for two hours. In a special ceremony he received rupee notes and coconuts as a token of blessing from his female relatives.

The women were dressed in rajasthani blouses and skirts of brilliant red, orange, magenta, pink, and green silk lavishly trimmed in gold.

The constant whirring of electric fans and the chanting of local women mingled with the soft tinkle of ankle bangles worn by ladies serving glasses of cold water or soft drink to sweating guests.

The groom was taken around the fort on a silver palanquin resting on the shoulders of bearers wearing burnt orange turbans. He was dressed in a pink brocade coat, red cummerbund, sword and wedding headdress of delicate silver chains.

He mounted an elephant up a rough wooden ladder. Camels, caparisoned horses, yoked bullocks and bagpipers in tartans and tiger skins completed the procession.

Then, perhaps for the last time, the plodding elephant bore the young heir through the spiked gates of the fort into the hot gritty streets of Bikaner.

Letters to the Editor

June 25, 1971

Dear Mr. Luecke,

I was delighted to see your Reader's Poll appear in last week's edition of the Herald. Although I am only a "Summer Resident" of Cameron, the Summer months are pleasant memories for me. Each year when I return to school in Houston I have many pleasant experiences to relate to my fellow students.

In your Reader's Poll there are topics I feel poorly qualified to evaluate because I'm only here during the Summer. I am concerned, and would like to speak out, about a few things I see in Cameron. The first thing is the lack of job opportunities for the youth of Cameron. There seems to be countless jobs available with a salary that is under $1.00 per hour. I wonder, especially in the case of high school graduates, if employers realize the cost of education in the 1970's. The young adults are leaving in droves, Cameron! "How ya gonna keep 'em down on the farm?"

Besides the lack of jobs, there seems to be a lack of facilities for the youth. Little League, tennis games, the Drive-In and the swimming pool are good as far as they go. But there's so much more that could be done. We all witness each June the energy our youth have in the Folk Fete. There are various dance groups that perform and the dances at night are well attended. Why not capitalize on something like this with Block Dances or Summer Sock Hops?

While I'm on the subject of facilities, I'd like to bring up the proposed Little League Parks. The new fields are certainly a necessity. I find the logic of putting the younger aged teams so far out of town difficult to follow, however. If the Little League Association insists on their inconveniently located new ball parks, I would hope they would at least put the older players at the airport. It distresses me to see such a beautiful piece of land such as Wilson-Ledbetter Park sit and go to waste - which is exactly what is happening. With a minimum amount of effort and at a cost that I would guess to be considerably less than $15,000, the new parks could be located there. Power lines, sewer lines and concession stands are already in the Park. The old stone houses could be renovated and made into concession stands. If my memory serves me the Lion's Club last year voted to spend a total of $3,000 on the Park. Add to this the Federal and State money that is available to communities for park improvements and I think you'll find that my case is sound.

I'm even a little amazed that Folk Fete is not held in the Wilson-Ledbetter Park. There is ample parking area and much more room than at the City Park. There would be no need to ask "Folk Feters" to go to Yoe Field for the night time activities, either. By renting temporary bleachers and a lawn mower, the old arena could be put to excellent use.

Not being a full-time resident in Cameron, I have not had the opportunity to meet a great number of people here, so to say there are many who feel as I do is not possible. Why the Park is not utilized more is beyond me. I can't believe that a "wrong-side-of-the-tracks" attitude exists in such a friendly town. Perhaps if there are others in town who share my views they could express them through your paper. For that matter, those who oppose my views also.

Again, thank you for the Reader's Poll and the opportunity for a Summertime Resident to express his views.

Sincerely,
Dan Delaney
713 S. College

Glenn Dodd Is Elected To Cashier

Glenn W. Dodd was elected June 18 to the post of assistant cashier of the First City National Bank of Houston.

Dodd is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Dodd of Route 2, Rosebud. He is a 1965 graduate of Yoe High School and graduated from the University of Houston Cullen College of Engineering in 1970. Dodd and his wife live in Houston.

Poage Votes 'No' On Welfare Bill

Cong. W. R. Poage says in his June 25 newsletter that he voted "no" to a welfare bill passed in the House that week by a substantial majority.

The bill, according to Poage, "attempts to give every citizen of the United States a guaranteed income."

"As justification the proponents said they were going to make every able-bodied head of a household work in order to draw assistance," he said "But as I read the bill, it does nothing of the kind."

By the time all the exceptions in the 687-page bill are interpreted by the courts, Poage said, "I think it is clear that we won't have much work but we will have millions of people living off the work of other people because the government can't support anybody without taking from someone who does work."

Poage added that it is clear that the amount of unearned income which the government offers will be increased before election.

He noted that a bill of that length has sound features, "but I simply cannot vote to change all those goals, ambitions and aspirations which have made the U.S. the greatest nation on earth."

SUMMER FUN begins with one of the coolest sports available, that of swimming. The City Pool, located in Ledbetter Park is open seven days a week and is certainly one of the most relaxing places to be on a hot summer's day. Staff Photo by Danny Robbins.

Time Table At VA Office

Questions posed by veterans to VA offices frequently show the veteran is in doubt about the time factor of applying for some benefits, according to Jack Coker, VA Regional Office Director in Waco.

"Our office has prepared a time table on benefits to assist veterans and their families", Coker said.

The countdown for the veteran starts from the day of his separation from the service.

Coker said a veteran has 10 days to notify any local Selective Service Board of his address and 30 days to register if he did not do so before entering military service.

If a veteran wants his old job back he has 90 days to apply to his former employer for re-employment.

He has 120 days to convert his Servicemen's Group Life Insurance (SGLI) to an individual policy without examination. If totally disabled at separation, a veteran has up to one year if his condition does not change, to convert his insurance.

In either case, he must apply for the policy to one of the nearly 600 private companies participating in the SGLI program.
